

Dear Parent or Guardian:

My name is Michael Robinson, and I will be your child's Honors Facing History teacher. I hope you will take the time to look over the information about the course on the class website:

<http://www.hhsrobinson.org>

Much of what students do will be on Schoology, but the class website above will also be used throughout the school year.

Below are some topics you may want to know about regarding class expectations.

Materials Needed

- Almost all work for the class will be completed using the student's computer. All assignments and assessments will be turned in or completed in Schoology.

Assignments and Readings

- Most of the class readings will come from the Holocaust and Human Behavior textbook on the hhsrobinson.org website.
- There will be three main books to read through the semester: Nothing to Envy, The Children of Willesden Lane, and Born a Crime. A copy of each book will be provided for each student.

Quizzes and Tests

- There are a few quizzes on the various readings.

Contacting Me

- It is expected if there are any questions concerning assignments the student will first review all directions and information online in order to find the answer to his/her question. If students cannot find the answer, they should email me. It is the responsibility of the students to email me their questions or concerns.
- Parents and/or Guardians can email me any time with questions or concerns. However, I do request that parents and/or guardians do their best to allow their child to be the main person responsible for emailing me with questions concerning assignments.

I am excited to be back at school, and I am looking forward to a successful school year.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

Sincerely,
Michael Robinson
